

McDonald's® Careers

We believe the best people in the country work right here – and you could be one of them. You've got the enthusiasm and drive. We've got flexible schedules, benefits and jobs that can turn into satisfying careers. We also offer rewarding corporate opportunities that offer the challenge of working for the #1 quick-service restaurant operation in the world. It's a perfect match. We feature a wide range of job opportunities across Canada at our Restaurants and Corporate Offices.

Inclusion & Diversity

The heart of the McDonald's organization is in providing doorways of opportunities and growth for team members from diverse backgrounds and communities locally – and internationally. Respecting, listening to and participating in knowledge-sharing and eclectic insights has helped make us the organization we are today - from our crew members to our board members.

Careers for Transitioning Military Personnel

You've done so much for our country – Now we would like help you. Your military service instilled in you a sense of pride, commitment to service and leadership skills. You can continue to leverage your experience and skills in a career at McDonald's® Canada.

Why choose a career at McDonald's?

There is no career more challenging or rewarding than serving in the Canadian Armed Forces. However, we believe a career with McDonald's can be the next challenge in your career. You were born a leader – and we're ready to put those skills to work. McDonald's provides you with the possibility of a progressive career path that gives you the opportunity to perform at the top of your game no matter where you start.

McDonald's has a long history of building bright futures for young people from the ground up; Sixty-five per cent of McDonald's Canada's top management and 50 per cent of its franchisees started behind the counter as crew at the company's restaurants, including the past three presidents of McDonald's Canada.

