

The public service delivers the policies, programs and services that government provides. The OPS is a professional body that is non-partisan. This means that it supports and provides impartial advice to the government elected by the people of Ontario.

Great Careers

The Ontario Public Service (OPS) is one of the largest employers in the province, employing more than 60,000 people. We have a wide range of meaningful and rewarding career opportunities in communities across Ontario. We welcome new ideas and new people, encourage learning and development, and reward achievement. We offer challenging work and competitive pay and benefits.

The Ontario government has broad responsibilities for the well-being of Ontario and Ontarians. With government involved in so many different lines of business, working in the OPS offers a tremendous range of exciting career opportunities. We employ biologists and lawyers, policy analysts and advisors, social workers and nurses, mechanics and systems analysts, bookkeepers and editors, conservation officers and translators, auditors and economists, urban planners and forest firefighters... and more.

What connects the people doing these jobs and others in the OPS is a commitment to public service. As part of the OPS team, you will help to make this province the best place in the world to live, work and grow.

Inclusive Workplace

The Ontario Public Service is committed to building an even more inclusive, accessible and barrier-free workplace – one that supports all employees to reach their full potential.

We are working on several fronts to support inclusion – through policy, practices and workplace culture.

This means we have policies and practices that say we will:

- Hire based on merit
- Prevent and address workplace discrimination and harassment
- Provide employment accommodation for employees with injuries, illnesses or disabilities and to applicants during the recruitment process
- Prevent and address employment barriers
