

Equity, diversity and inclusion

Ryerson University welcomes those who have demonstrated a commitment to upholding the values of equity, diversity, and inclusion and will assist us to expand our capacity for diversity in the broadest sense. In addition, to correct the conditions of disadvantage in employment in Canada, we encourage applications from members of groups that have been historically disadvantaged and marginalized, including First Nations, Metis and Inuit peoples, Indigenous peoples of North America, racialized persons, persons with disabilities, and those who identify as women and/or 2SLGBTQ+. Please note that all qualified candidates are encouraged to apply; however, applications from Canadians and permanent residents will be given priority.

We recognize that the talents of diverse people drive innovation and help make Ryerson a great place to study and work. We are strengthening our community outreach activities and partnering with organizations to attract Aboriginal Peoples to contribute to the university's success. With access to services specifically for Aboriginal employees, employment at Ryerson means being able to bring your whole self to work.

Ryerson makes its mark

Ryerson is proud to be recognized with these accolades that acknowledge our commitment to putting people first and becoming Canada's leading comprehensive innovative university.
