

Ahead Together

Here at GSK, we unite science, technology and talent to get ahead of disease together. We are committed to doing the right thing and our ambition is to improve the lives of 2.5 billion people over the next 10 years. We'll do this by bringing together outstanding people and doing work that matters in an inclusive environment, so we can make an impact on a global scale.

We take on some of the biggest healthcare challenges in the world to deliver results that matter

We prevent and treat disease with vaccines, specialty and general medicines, focusing on science of the immune system, human genetics and advanced technologies. We invest in 4 core therapeutic areas: Infectious diseases, HIV, Oncology, Immunology/Respiratory and future opportunities to impact health at scale.

We recruit and develop outstanding people - people who believe in our purpose, live our culture and want to help us achieve our ambition. We expect managers to motivate, focus, develop and care for their teams, and we recognise, celebrate and reward success.

Above all, we create a place where people can grow, be their best, be safe, and feel welcome, valued and included.

Diversity, equity and inclusion

We want GSK to be a diverse, inclusive organisation that attracts and retains outstanding talent, because this brings greater opportunity to create better health outcomes for the patients around the world who rely on our medicines and vaccines.

We're working hard to become a more inclusive company in the way we do business, both through our clinical trials and the external companies we choose to work with. Internally, we want GSK to be a workplace where everyone can feel a sense of belonging and thrive.

All of this depends on our people and our culture. A culture that is ambitious for patients – so we deliver what matters better and faster; where we are all accountable for our impact and supported to succeed; and where we do the right thing to meet legal obligations and keep ourselves and others safe both at and through our work. So, if you share our ambition, join us at this exciting moment in our journey to get Ahead Together.
