

Do you have what it takes to be an energy problem solver?

Now more than ever, the world needs big thinkers.

Our world needs energy, and we need to continue finding sustainable ways to provide it. Solving that challenge will take hard work and determined people — because today’s brightest minds will be the ones that help us find tomorrow’s most important solutions.

Guided by our values of safety, innovation, responsibility, collaboration, and integrity, we’re delivering new energy solutions – from natural gas and renewables to carbon capture and hydrogen – to help other businesses and industries decarbonize too. Along the way, we’re helping the local communities we touch become stronger, cleaner, and more resilient.

We need bright, open, curious minds to help us look at problems differently and contribute unique solutions through their work. Sound like you? Our energy problems solvers:

- Take on exciting, innovative and challenging projects
- Enjoy competitive total rewards
- Have a hybrid work arrangement for eligible roles
- Make a positive difference in the communities we serve
- Help create cleaner energy solutions that meet the worlds demands
- Work in an environment where you can dress casually and comfortably while pursuing highly rewarding projects

Inclusion and diversity

We are a diverse and inclusive team of professionals who think critically and creatively to solve problems. We actively seek a wide range of candidates for each position because we know the diversity of backgrounds, opinions, and experiences drives innovation and strengthens our teams and culture.

Diversity drives high-performance, it makes us better. We know that when we bring different people, ideas, backgrounds, opinions and skills to the table, and embrace our differences – we create a creative, innovative and high-performing culture.

When everyone, feels safe and empowered to bring their very best - that’s when we spark innovation. We’re working to foster an inclusive workplace where every member of our team is respected and feels that they can contribute to their full potential.
